

Entry requirements for UK medical schools
2023 entry

mssc Medical Schools
Council
Selection Alliance

“Around the UK there are students who would make brilliant doctors but who feel in the dark about what they need in order to apply. Some of these students may never have considered their talent for medicine, while others have had encouragement from family or teachers.

“Medical schools want to find the best candidates and believe they can come from any background. With a resource like this, we hope that a major part of the process – admissions criteria – can become clearer for everyone.”

Welcome

This guide contains information on entry requirements for all of the UK's bachelor's degrees in medicine. It was created by the Medical Schools Council and is updated yearly from information passed directly from the medical schools.

The purpose of the guide is to act as a point of reference and easy comparison for entry requirements. It cannot contain the full details of each medical school's requirements, so seeking confirmation and additional information on individual medical school's websites is essential.

Diversity and widening participation

This guide will be useful to all who are considering an application to study medicine. It was, however, created with particular focus on widening participation. This term refers to initiatives which provide opportunities for those who would make excellent doctors but who face barriers due to their educational and/or socioeconomic circumstances.

The Medical Schools Council believes that an applicant's chance of entering a medical degree programme should be dictated by factors such as academic ability, motivation and conscientiousness. Factors like wealth or cultural background should not present any barrier to studying medicine. Removing barriers will help to build a medical profession which is diverse, highly capable and represents the communities it serves.

Part of this is to present entry requirements information in the clearest way. This is of particular benefit to students who are without good careers guidance. It will also help careers advisers ensure that their knowledge is correct and up to date.

Collating and publishing this information is part of the medical schools' response to the demand for clear and accessible entry requirements for medicine, as recommended in the Final Report of the Selecting for Excellence project.

Did you know...

The screenshot shows a search interface with a search bar at the top containing the text "Search..." and a "Go" button. Below the search bar are several filter categories, each with a checkmark icon and a dropdown arrow. The categories and their selected options are: "Competition ratios" (checked), "A Levels and Scottish Highers" (checked), "Personal statement" (checked), "International Baccalaureate" (checked), "Work experience" (checked), and "Widening participation" (checked). At the bottom of the filter section are two buttons: "Reset filters" and "Open all boxes".

All the information in this booklet is available as an interactive webpage so you can search by your chosen criteria and make easy comparisons.

“I’ve had to overcome some major adversities in life in order to be where I am today. Although the grades I achieved at A level wouldn’t typically have been sufficient to be considered for medicine, I’m extremely happy to have been given the opportunity.”

Course types

Standard Entry Medicine

This is usually five years long, but in some institutions it is six. It can have different abbreviations, such as MBBS or MBChB, but all result in the bachelor's degree in medicine.

Graduate Entry Medicine

This is open to application from those who already have a bachelor's degree. Many universities accept a degree in any subject, but some require the previous degree to be science- or health-related. It is a four-year accelerated degree in most cases, but in some universities it is a five-year course. It is also known as the Graduate Entry Programme.

Medicine with a Preliminary Year

This course takes the form of a five-year Standard Entry Medicine with an additional year at the start, making a six-year course.

This course is designed for those who achieved highly at A level, or equivalent, but who did not take the required science subjects. This extra year gives students the necessary science training to catch up. It is not a means of boosting the grades of those who do not meet the entry requirements of Standard Entry Medicine.

Medicine with a Gateway Year

These medical degrees are designed for those who are of high ability but who may be coming from situations where they have had barriers to their learning.

The courses can take this into account in different ways, for instance by using 'adjusted criteria' to change the entry requirements for applicants from low-participation areas. Often these are six-year courses, with the first year being a foundation year. Some schools offer a stand alone foundation year, which allows progression on to a standard medicine course.

Note →

Sometimes this course is called a 'foundation year'. It should not be confused with the Foundation Programme, which is the period of practical training taken after graduation.

Note →

These courses have been designed specifically for widening participation, but many of the Standard Entry Medicine courses use similar methods. See the 'widening participation' box in each entry.

Admissions tests

Nearly all medical degrees use an admissions test as part of their entry requirements. There are three admissions tests. Applicants may sit different combinations of these tests according to the medical schools they intend to include in their application.

UCAT

Applicants must register for the UCAT between May and late September. After the UCAS deadline, results are sent directly to the medical schools to which the applicant has applied. Thirty medical schools use the UCAT.

UCAT also administers the Situational Judgement Test for Admission to Clinical Education (SJFace) which is an admissions test used for entry to the Scottish Graduate Entry Medical Programme (ScotGEM).

BMAT

There are usually two BMAT test dates per year. The first is in early September and applicants must register for this by early August. The second is in late October or early November and students should aim to register for this by the end of September, but late registrations are possible until the UCAS application deadline. The scores of those in the second sitting are sent directly to the medical schools to which they have applied. Seven medical schools use the BMAT.

GAMSAT

This test is used for a number of the Graduate Entry Medicine courses. It is also used for graduate applicants to a small number of Standard Entry Medicine courses. Applicant must register for and sit the GAMSAT before making the UCAS application. Seven medical schools use the GAMSAT.

About Access courses

In medicine, Access courses are run by further education colleges and not by universities. This means there are many different Access courses on offer. Often they are designed for mature learners who may not have A levels or equivalent. As is the case for Medicine with a Preliminary Year, Access courses are not a substitute for poor performance at A level.

If you are thinking about applying for a specific Access course, it will be useful to first check some things with medical schools and with the institution offering the Access course so you can feel comfortable with your decision.

Questions for medical schools

- Do you accept the qualification offered by this Access course as part of your entry requirements?
- If so, have you previously admitted students who have been on this course?

Questions for the Access course provider

- Have students who have taken the Access course gone on to study medicine?
- If so, how many, and which medical schools did they go to?

- 1 The numbers here are called 'competition ratios'. They state the number of applicants per interview and the number of applicants per place on the course. Where the ratio is not known, it is marked with '-'.
- 2 These are the minimum entry requirements which must be met for the application to proceed. It is at the following stages, such as interview, where medical schools really start to differentiate the applicants.
- 3 This will tell you how the personal statement is used. Most medical schools do not score the personal statement (but may still read it for background information). Some do score the personal statement.
- 4 This states the admissions test used by the medical school. See the previous page for more on these.
- 5 Interviews can take different forms, such as a single panel interview, or a series of short interviews called a 'multiple mini-interview'. Different styles can focus on different attributes in the candidate.
- 6 Medical schools may specify what kind of experience they are looking for. Remember: it is not a checklist. The key is the way in which an applicant discusses their experiences in the interview, not the places where they have gained them. For instance, if asked to provide an example of working with other people, having had a part-time job can be just as valuable for answering this as having shadowed a doctor. See the Work experience guidelines for applicants to medicine for more on this.
- 7 This box contains any information which relates to widening participation. This can take many forms, from stating particular colleges that the medical school works with, to describing how the grade threshold may be lowered according to factors in the applicant's circumstances.

		Use in selection
Application	Degree qualifications (for graduate applicants)	Minimum 2:1 honours degree awarded within the last five years. The degree must be in a biological, biomedical, chemistry or health science subject (please note we do not accept Nursing or Paramedic Science).
	Predicted A levels/Scottish Highers	AAA at A level taken within two academic years prior to the time of application, to include Chemistry or Biology and one of either Biology, Chemistry, Maths or Physics.
		AAB from Scottish Advanced Highers with grades AA to come from Biology and/or Chemistry and another science subject. AAAAA at Higher Grade including Biology and/or Chemistry and another science subject.
	GCSEs/Scottish Nationals	A minimum of 5 GCSE passes at grades 9-6 (A*-B) or equivalent required including Maths, English Language and two science subjects.
	International Baccalaureate	A minimum of 36 points is accepted. 6,6,6 at Higher Level in Biology and/or Chemistry plus one other science subject.
	Personal statement	The personal statement is not taken into consideration when shortlisting for interview, but candidates who are invited to interview can expect to be asked about their personal statement at that stage.
Admissions test	UCAT

Interview method	Multiple mini-interviews
Work experience	Not weighted in the selection process, but applicants should be prepared to discuss this at interview.

Widening participation	Applicants who meet the criteria of our Widening Access to Medicine Scheme are eligible, if successful at interview, to receive a lower offer of grades ABB rather than AAA. We are committed to widening access and to recruiting students who have aspirations to study medicine but are from under-represented and/or disadvantaged groups. We aim to support applicants through the application and selection process and have a Widening Access to Medicine Scheme (WAMS).

Number of applicants per interview	2.15	5.35
Number of applicants per place	7.04	16.71

		Use in selection
Application	Degree qualifications (for graduate applicants)	Achieved or predicted first or upper second class degree in any subject from a recognised institution. We expect that no more than five years will have elapsed between the most significant and relevant qualification and the start date of the course. If more than five years have elapsed since your degree, then your work since your degree will be considered.
	Predicted A levels/Scottish Highers	The standard offer is A*AA, including Biology/Human Biology and Chemistry. Applicants must be predicted a minimum of AAA.
	GCSEs/Scottish Nationals	A total of seven GCSEs must be offered, and these will be used to calculate an applicant score (see website for details). The required subjects are: English Language at grade 6/B or higher (English Literature is not required but is one of the identified subjects that we will score); Mathematics (or one of Methods in Mathematics and Applications of Mathematics) at grade 6/B or higher; and Biology and Chemistry or dual award science at grade 6/B or higher.
	International Baccalaureate	6,6,6 at Higher Level (including Biology and Chemistry) plus total points score of 32.
	Personal statement	Personal statement is not scored. It is expected that the statement provides evidence of commitment to study medicine.
	Admissions test	UCAT

Interview	Interview method	Multiple mini-interviews
	Work experience	Relevant work experience (including voluntary roles and shadowing opportunities) can offer great insight of the complexities, demands and strategies of current healthcare practice and the benefits they obtain from caring for people and working in teams. However, we recognise that arranging, undertaking and effective reflection on face-to-face experiences requires a great deal of time and effort, and may not have been possible during the recent pandemic disruptions.

Widening participation	Students who successfully complete a Pathways to Birmingham programme will receive special consideration from admissions tutors. For widening participation applicants who are made an offer following interview, the offer is ABB.

Application	Predicted A levels/Scottish Highers	Typical offers are A*A*A at A level, or A1A1A2 in Scottish Advanced Highers. On entry, applicants must have A level passes in Chemistry and at least one of Biology, Physics, Maths (two required by some colleges). Please note that the success rate for students offering three or more Science/Maths A levels has often been higher than for those without.
	GCSEs/Scottish Nationals	No specific requirements.
	International Baccalaureate	40–42 points, with 7,7,6 at Higher Level. On entry, applicants must have Higher Chemistry and at least one of Higher Biology, Physics, Maths (two required by some colleges).
	Personal statement	Personal statement is reviewed prior to interview but not scored.
	Admissions test	BMAT

Interview	Interview method	Panel interview/s (usually two interviews lasting 25–30 minutes at one college).
	Work experience	To develop understanding of what a career in medicine involves and suitability for your intended profession, candidates are strongly advised (though not required) to undertake some relevant work experience (either paid or voluntary) in a health or related area. The medical school is not prescriptive about how this is obtained and recognises the widely differing opportunities available.

Widening participation	Contextual data is considered within the admissions process; relevant applications receive contextual flags based on individual, socio-economic and educational disadvantage. This information is fully considered as part of a holistic admissions process to aid in the fair assessment of applicants, but does not result in systematic lower grade offers. The university delivers a Medicine Summer School with the Sutton Trust, alongside a number of other subject-specific outreach interventions.

Application	Degree qualifications (graduate applicants only)	Minimum of grade 6/B in GCSEs listed below in addition to BBB or ABC grades at A-level and have achieved a BSc Honours degree 2:1 or above or be working towards it. All graduates should have Biology and Chemistry at GCE A-Level.
	Predicted A levels/Scottish Highers	AAA at A-level including Chemistry and Biology. The Welsh Baccalaureate Advanced Skills Challenge Certificate (WBA) with an overall grade A will be considered in lieu of an A-level alongside grade A in both Biology and Chemistry A level. at Advanced Higher level with AA grades (including Chemistry and Biology) along with five Scottish Higher A grades.
	GCSEs	Grade 6/B GCSE (or equivalent qualification) in Mathematics, English Language, and Double Award Science (6,6 or B/B) or Chemistry and Biology.
	International Baccalaureate	IB Diploma with a minimum overall score of 36 and 7,6,6 in 3 Higher level subjects. Must include grade 6 in HL Biology or Chemistry AND grade 6 in one other HL science from Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, or Statistics. Must also include grade 7 in SL Biology or Chemistry if not taken at HL. All offers exclude Theory of Knowledge and the Extended Essay.
	Personal statement	Evidence is sought for insight into a career in medicine, experience and reflection of personal responsibility, experience and reflection in a caring environment, a balanced approach to life, self-directed learning and a sense of social awareness, in addition to positive referee's comments.
	Admissions test	UCAT

Interview	Interview method	Multiple mini-interviews
	Work experience	The university recognises that opportunities for work experience will vary according to individual circumstances. Applicants are encouraged to show an appreciation of the length of the training programme and the career structure.

Widening participation	The academic and non-academic attainment of a candidate will be reviewed against educational performance data and socio-economic background to provide an overview of an applicant's potential. The medical school will consider this information when deciding whether to call a candidate for interview. See website for details.

		Use in selection
Application	Degree qualifications (graduate applicants)	2:1 degree in any subject plus the A level requirements and a minimum of GCSE level 4 (C) in maths and English language.
	Predicted A levels/Scottish Highers	AAA including biology and chemistry. A pass is required in science practical tests, where these are assessed separately. AA at Advanced Higher including Biology and Chemistry. AAAAB at Scottish Higher including Biology and Chemistry, Maths and English Language. Grade A must be achieved in Biology and Chemistry.
	GCSEs/Scottish Nationals	We require a minimum of 6 GCSEs at Level 7 (A). These 6 GCSEs at Level 7 must include chemistry and biology - or double science if you have not taken the individual science subjects - and may include maths and English language. If maths and English language are not included in your 6 GCSEs at Level 7, you will need a minimum grade of Level 6 in both subjects.
	International Baccalaureate	36 points (6, 6, 6 at Higher Level including Biology and Chemistry, excluding core component). English language is required at either standard level (grade 6) or higher level (grade 5).
	Personal statement	We do not score the personal statement but it will be assessed alongside the School reference after interview and before offers are made.
	Admissions test	UCAT

Interview	Interview method	Multiple mini-interviews
	Work experience	Applicants are usually expected to complete work experience. Your application will not be negatively affected if you've been unable to complete any work experience due to the pandemic. We will however be looking for knowledge of the profession and an understanding of the scope of the role and we may ask about this during your interview.

Widening participation	If an applicant is eligible for the University WP Flag, they may be accepted with predicated grades of AAB with at least one A in either Biology or Chemistry or IB - 35 (6,6,5 at Higher Level including 6 in either Biology or Chemistry, excluding core component) and may be given a corresponding lower contextual offer following interview. 	GCSEs/Scottish Nationals	No specific requirements but most applicants hold a broad range of GCSEs in both sciences and art subjects. On average, our applicants hold around 80% of GCSE passes at grade 8 or 9 (A*) and have 8.5 passes at grades 8 or 9 (A*) – although successful applicants may have a higher proportion than this. Where school performance data are available, GCSE attainment will be measured relative to the average attainment at the candidate's school. Find out more here .
	International Baccalaureate	39 points, including core points, with 7,6,6 at Higher Level. Candidates are required to take Chemistry and a second science (Biology or Physics or Maths) to Higher Level.
	Personal statement	The personal statement is considered along with all other aspects of the application for those applicants who are not automatically shortlisted, and may be used as the basis for interview questions for those shortlisted.
	Admissions test	BMAT - As part of the process to decide which applicants are called to interview, we establish a ranking on the basis of contextualised BMAT results.

Interview	Interview method	Panel interviews at two colleges. Each shortlisted candidate typically receives a total of four interviews.
	Work experience	Considered by admissions tutors alongside all other aspects of the application. Candidates may choose to explain how any experiences they may have had enable them to demonstrate their suitability for medicine.

		Use in selection
Application	Degree qualifications	2.1 or first class honours degree (or equivalent), achieved or predicted. Applicants will not be considered if their first degree does not meet this requirement, even if they subsequently gain further degrees (Bachelor's, Master's or PhD). Honours degrees in any discipline will be accepted. Applicants who are on, or have been on, a medical degree course will not be considered, including any intercalating degree.
	A levels/Scottish Highers	Grade B or above in Chemistry at A level or Scottish Higher.
	GCSEs/Scottish Nationals	GCSE Maths at grade B (numerical grade 5) or above; or Standard Grade credit 1 or 2; or Intermediate 2 grade A or B; or National 5 grade B or above.
	International Baccalaureate	Higher Level Chemistry grade 5 or above and Standard Level Maths grade 5.
	Personal statement	Not scored but health-related work experience required. Applicants also required to fill out online questionnaire with more details of relevant experience.
	Admissions test	GAMSAT

Interview	Interview method	Multiple mini-interviews
	Work experience	Work experience should be achieved in a health situation with people who may be ill, disabled, elderly or by shadowing a doctor at work. The main aim of work experience is to gain insight into health and healthcare delivery and to allow candidates to make an informed choice before deciding to apply to study medicine. Medically related work experience is not scored but instead forms part of the discussions at interview. During the Covid-19 pandemic, opportunities to gain work experience for first-time applicants to medicine have been affected and this will be taken into account.

To confirm this information, see details on the course's entry requirements, and learn more about the course itself, see its webpage: ScotGEM. This course is run as a partnership between the universities of Dundee and St Andrews.

Medicine with a Preliminary Year

This course takes the form of either a five-year Standard Entry Medicine with an additional year at the start, making a six-year course, or sometimes the preliminary year is taken as a standalone one-year course.

This course is designed for those who achieved highly at A level, or equivalent, but who did not take the required science subjects. This extra year gives students the necessary science training to catch up. It is not a means of boosting the grades of those who do not meet the entry requirements of Standard Entry Medicine.
